

Unit 1 Week 2 - Dear Juno

Strategy - Analyze Story Structure

A reader can use _____ to understand a fiction story. A story structure is made up of the plot, characters, and setting.

Skill - Plot Development

Explain

_____ are the people or animals in a story. The main characters' actions usually move the story's _____ along. Where the action takes place is the story's _____.

The main character's _____, or parts of his or her personality, usually cause the character to act in a certain way.

A reader can figure out a character's traits by identifying how the character feels, what the character says and does, and what other people say about the character.

ELL - Academic Vocabulary

Create a Character Web to explain character traits. First, make a list of character traits (honest, clever, stubborn). Make a Character Web for a familiar story character. A Character Web looks a little like a spider web.
